About Amanda Josephine Post

This scholarship is offered in loving memory of Amanda Josephine Post, who passed away in 2009 during her freshman year at River Hill High School due to complications from a bone marrow transplant (BMT) for relapsed Acute Myeloid Leukemia (AML).

Amanda was diagnosed with AML as a seventh-grader at Folly Quarter Middle School, undergoing five rounds of month-long inpatient chemotherapy at the Children’s Hospital at Sinai in Baltimore, and having entered remission after the first round. Upon returning to school in 8th grade, she made straight A’s, and resumed playing travel soccer with her SAC/HC Lady Diplomats’ team. In Fall 2008, she entered River Hill High School as a member of the Class of 2012 and secured a spot as a starting forward on the girls’ JV soccer team, as well as began her seventh season as a Lady Diplomat, wearing her lucky number “24” (also her birthdate in April) on both jerseys. Halfway through the season her AML returned, at which time she had to undergo two relapse rounds of chemotherapy at Sinai, followed by a BMT at the Children’s National Medical Center in Washington, DC.

Amanda loved being a student at River Hill High School and a member of its girls’ JV soccer team. For a month in Fall 2008, Amanda lived with the knowledge that her leukemia may be returning, yet maintained straight A’s in her classes, was the second highest scorer that season on the girls’ JV soccer team, and continued as a starting forward on her Lady Dips’ team. Amanda was incredibly proud to be a River Hill “Hawk”, wearing Hawk sportswear even while undergoing treatment and decorating her hospital rooms with Hawk team pictures and posters. She was awarded the “Hawk” Award for her JV team, as well as the school’s 2009 “Hawkie” Courage Award.

Amanda was a lifelong resident of Clarksville, and attended Glenelg Country School from Pre-K through fifth grades. In addition to excelling academically and on the soccer field, she performed in school plays, took dance, guitar, and horseback riding lessons, had been a gymnast and played girls’ ice hockey, and was voted freshman Homecoming Princess by her RHHS classmates. Amanda was also involved with her family in fundraising for the pediatric expansion project for the Children’s Hospital at Sinai in Baltimore, speaking about her AML in a fundraising video and presenting a poem about the day of her diagnosis to over 100 candidate donors. Amanda was absolutely passionate about her family, her friends, classmates and teammates, those who cared for her medically, and living her everyday life to the fullest.

The Amanda Post Memorial Fund was established by family, friends, classmates and teammates who experienced Amanda’s vibrancy in their lives, witnessed her passion in the classroom, on the field, and in every other venture in which she participated, and were captivated by her joyful zest for living each moment to the fullest. The Amanda Post “AmandaWins” scholarships are named to reflect Amanda’s winning attitude and lively spirit for everything she did in her life.
